VISION 2030 Pushing Boundaries

As India is surging ahead to become the world's third-largest economy by 2030, construction and infrastructure developments are going to play a key role in this big leap of the country. Construction Times presents the vision of industry captains on India @2030 and how they are gearing up towards the vision.

We have planned to diversify our business to further enhance our role in shaping India's future.

Harendra Singh

Chairman & MD, H.G. Infra Engineering Ltd

We envision a transformed India where modern and efficient infrastructure drives economic growth and connectivity. Our goal is to contribute significantly to the development of modern and sustainable infrastructure that will propel India onto the global stage. Aligned with India's infrastructure development goals, we are prepared to construct world-class comparable quality roads and highways that enhance connectivity, boost trade, and improve quality of life. In line with this vision, we have planned to diversify our business into other critical segments, such as metro, railways and maritime projects to further enhance our role in shaping India's future.
